

In the Abstract:

Orally administrable film-shaped medicaments which contain the active substance deoxypeganine or/and a deoxypeganine derivative. The medicaments can be used for transmucosal administration of active substances and comprise at least one rapidly disintegrating or freely soluble active substance-containing layer and at least one slowly or non-disintegrating active substance containing layer.